Pass the word on — it's time for Camp Foley's annual

Twin City Reunion!

OUR ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS GET-TOGETHER IS PLANNED FOR

2:00 PM SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1978

Room 304, Murray Hall Student Lounge, ST. THOMAS COLLEGE

ATTENTION! REUNIONS! COMING YOUR WAY!

Mrs. Schmid will once again be traveling in your area and planning Camp Foley get-togethers. Here is your chance to renew friendships and to make new friends! It will be a good opportunity to reminisce about old times and to start planning for the upcoming summer.

Among the highlights of the reunions will be the virtually all-new slide show with over 120 new pictures from last year! If you were at Camp during the 1977 camping season, the odds are that you are in at least one shot. It is always nice to see what kind of tan you had in the summer, when it is winter in the Midwest.

However, one of our more important objectives in bringing you our seasonal Foley Reunions is to show you the quality of the camp and its wide range of activities and opportunities. Mrs. Schmid will be present to answer all questions and to give you additional information.

So -- CAMPERS! -- BRING YOUR FRIENDS and don't forget to remind your parents about the date, so that they can also find out what camp is all about!

Sailing is rapidly becoming more popular in the United States. More and more people are buying sailboats. As the price of fuel increases, it's not that bad an idea! Consequently, more people are now learning how to sail and others are working to improve their techniques.

In response to this interest and demand, Camp Foley in '78 is expanding its sailing program. In addition to its already well established program that ranges from basic sailing to racing techniques, Foley will be offering instruction in spinnaker sailing to give its "skippers" an extra challenge... and also to teach beginners and intermediates to become familiar with the use of a spinnaker. Learning to sail with a spinnaker is an important aspect of sailing that anyone who is at all serious about sailing ought to know.

Also, Foley will be adding an all new, structured, inter-camp racing series. This will give the campers more racing experience so that they will be able to compete even more effectively in the five summer Whitefish Lake regattas. Perhaps the main objective of the new inter-camp racing series is to give more people the chance to enjoy the growing sport of sailboat racing.

If you just want to learn to sail, or if you want to learn how to race and sail effectively, Camp Foley has YOUR program: SAILING '78!

Tom Schmid

ATTENTION ALL POTENTIAL HUNTERS

Camp Foley in '78 is switching from 22 caliber moskeet pump guns to 410 gauge shotguns. This will give campers the opportunity to learn the care and handling of a shotgun and also to sharpen their skills in the sport of skeet shooting.

The four-way rifle match will be at Camp Foley this summer, on July 27th, with these camps represented:

Mishawaka
Thunderbird
Lincoln
Foley

BWCA

A CANOE TRIP up in the Boundary Waters of Minnesota and Canada is an invaluable experience. The Boundary Waters Canoe Area is widely known for its clean waters and untainted wilderness. The trip is exciting and challenging, an opportunity for an individual to experience nature and the out-of-doors in its natural state.

We offer this trip for boys 14 years and older. And now, because of rescheduling of our sessions, the BWCA trip will fall in the two-week period from August 2 to 15. It will be included in the regular camp fee for that session. The boys will leave camp on August 3 and return August 14. This new scheduling gives our older campers the chance to come to camp just for the BWCA trip.

A down payment of twenty dollars ($20.00) must be sent in by May 1 in order that we reserve the proper number of canoes and obtain the necessary permits.
If you have never been in the Boundary Waters Canoe Area, you don't know what you have been missing! It could be the most rewarding trip you have ever taken!

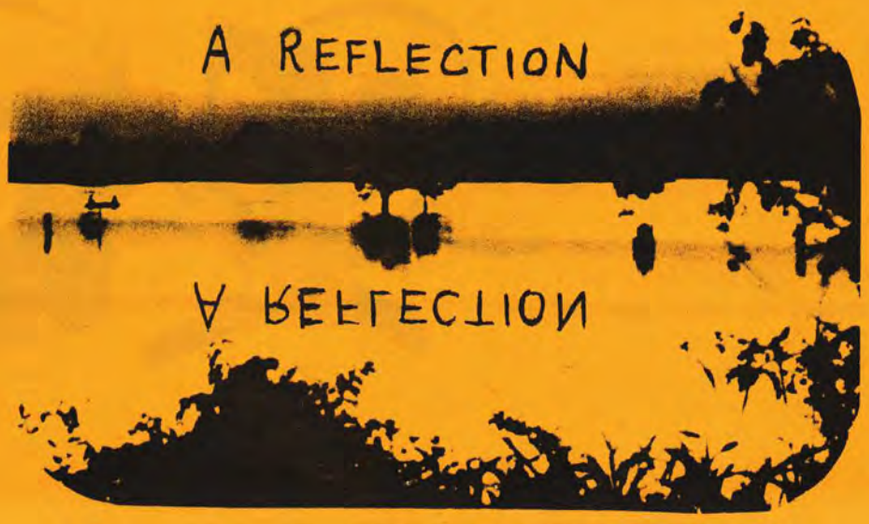
SPECIAL EVENTS

The fifth annual soccer, swim and tennis meet with Camp Lincoln will be held August 5, which is during our third session. For the past five years our campers have experienced the joys of competition and good sportsmanship in these meets. The results of last year's events were split: Camp Lincoln won the swimming meet; Camp Foley overwhelmed Lincoln in the tennis match; and both camps managed a tie in the soccer game!

This year we are looking forward to the return match -- and we are hoping to attract Foley's finest athletes in the third session to help improve on our performance!



ON THE 1977 SEASON

After my first year as a counselor at Camp Foley, I have been able to look back at all that happened and the experiences I've been able to obtain, and I have come to a few conclusions about the life of a camper, his (and her) friendships, and the importance of learning good skills early in life.

First of all, it seems that camp is not only for enjoyment of a sport, a hobby, or a craft, but also to achieve skills as an individual towards or with one another. Friendship is important throughout life, for help in and out of the business world, the social life of the future, and the connections between friends throughout the world. A friend is someone whom you can talk to, can ask dumb questions to and not be afraid of being laughed at, can look up at and admire, can tell your problems to.

As a counselor at camp, we had good times and bad times. But somehow only the good times seem important to me, because I think back on all the good friends I've made with the campers and staff, and that seems to overshadow the not so fun times. All the campfires that were a success. All the special days, the rifle and soccer matches, and the swimming meet. The regattas with Tom Schmid came off extremely well. His crews were picked with extreme caution and concern, for he wanted to assure the right talents for each boat. Marie had the programs all set up for the special days with hours of team making and game selecting. Rob with the boys' program day in and day out, put in hours tabulating the activities. And Mrs. Schmid with all of that plus everything else to do at camp, like the kitchen, the maintenance, the cleaning -- she was one busy person!

But the point of the praise is that they wouldn't do it if they didn't think of us as friends. All the campers are special to these people; they don't object to the work, because they know and believe that camp is something that is important to us, the learners. (Yes, the staff has to ask questions too!) Everybody is only human, so one cannot get mad or upset with someone that is trying the best they can.

Camp Foley is our camp, the people who participate in it. Anyone who ever goes to Camp Foley, although maybe not right now, will someday sit down and say, "Did I ever tell you about the time at camp that..." and the memories will be with us for life! The important thing is to appreciate one another and have patience with one another. Try to give a little more than normal, and someday you will be rewarded.

Your friend,

Billy Faricy

THINK TENNIS! INDIVIDUALIZED PROGRESSIVE TENNIS TRAINING AT FOLEY

LEARNING TENNIS is twice the fun when campers have the chance to be coached by our visiting tennis professional.

This is a special program providing intensive individualized instruction and training with the tennis professional at Camp Foley.

For the first six days of each session, players will work all morning on their tennis skills. Depending on the ability of the individual, each player will be coached through forehand and backhand ground strokes and volleys, serves, lobs, smashes and other specialty shots. As players advance, they will be coached on strategy in singles and doubles match play, and learn proper psychology to win at tennis and still have fun.

Players will have the chance to compete in match play and tournament situations. Challenges and competitive play are encouraged within the camp and in tournaments with neighboring camps.

This concentrated program offers thorough training and instruction similar to that offered by a specialized tennis camp. In addition, Camp Foley provides exposure in a variety of other areas, to promote the growth of a complete well-rounded individual.

ONLY THE FIRST EIGHT CAMPERS will be allowed to participate in this special program.

VI SCHMID IS RECIPIENT OF SUE TINKER AWARD FOR DISTINGUISHED SERVICE TO CAMPING

Speaking from the hearts of many camping friends and family, I would like to extend, from all of us, a warm congratulations to Vi Schmid.

On February 7, 1978, Vi received the Sue Tinker Award. This award, established by the Minnesota Section of the American Camping Association in 1967 is a significant recognition of both Sue Tinker and the annual recipient for their distinguished camping service.

Vi is the twenty-second recipient of this award. What is also very unique to us at Camp Foley is that her deceased husband received the award in 1969.

The Award is kept secret until announced at the special meeting. Vi was truly speechless upon receiving the award and her surprise increased as she found herself with a dozen roses in her hands and surrounded by family and close friends. Attending were her children, Rob and his wife Mary, Marie and her fiance Bill, and Tom; her mother, Mrs. Frances Fall n who is always giving and helping at camp; Mr. and Mrs. Erwin J. Schmid, her husband's parents and benefactors of the camp; and the special volunteer and supportive helpers Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leacock and Mr. and Mrs. William Marzolf. Everyone was extremely happy to be there to share her joy.

Quoting from the citation:

"Vi is the person who always says, 'I will be glad to help' and for many years she has helped hundreds of campers, camp staff, family members and camping friends. She exemplifies the real spirit of camping in her quiet support and sincere caring for people and concern for their happiness and well being.

To this we say congratulations!!!

Marie Schmid

I want to thank our camp friends and families for their warm hospitality extended to Chuck Haas and I as we traveled to many different cities visiting with many of you about camp. Our hosts were terrific camp promoters by organizing and holding excellent camp get-togethers in their localities. We also are grateful for their personal hospitality of inviting us into their homes for good meals, rest and relaxation. To those of you who may not have heard, Chuck Haas and his wife, Marykay join the Schmid family in the administration and operation of the camp. You'll see them both at camp in '78.

TOM SAWYE DAY

Tom Sawyer Days are coming to camp, one each session. It will be a whole day and two nights of fun and excitement for everyone. The four "academic" classes will compete to win the young school marm's smiles (and kisses?) and avoid her ruler.

Which class will earn the A's, B's, C's, or D's, in the scheduled events? Which class will wear the dunce hats? BEWARE! The preacher will be preaching death threatening sermons to those "students" doing poorly and the old spinster will be nagging boys and girls for ripped and dirty clothes or dirt behind their ears.

The numerous events include:

- white washing the fence
- constume contest
- spelling bee
- homemade ice cream
- raft races
- pillow knock-off
- spring recital
- the final exam
- watermelon eating contest
- three legged races
- gunny sack races
- balloon toss
- greased watermelon
- tug of war
- box lunch auction
- pot luck supper

The day will be challenging as individuals will be earning their "marks" through the day for the Box Lunch Auction. There is a fun event for everyone. What can you do now to prepare for Tom Sawyer Day?

- -read the Adventures of Tom Sawyer, by Mark Twain
- -find yourself a costume and bring it with you to camp
- -practice your spelling
- -get prepared for the spring recital with piano music, poetry or prose to read, folk songs or negro spirituals

BE READY FOR TOM SAWYER DAYS IN 1978

ON SAFARI WITH MARIE

Many campers have asked about my trip to Kenya and are anxious to see my slides. I am very pleased with my more than 300 slides of the African animals, natives and the magnificant scenery and will have them with me at camp to share with you.

Our group of twenty college students and one professor traveled throughout Kenya in three Volkswagon vans going on game drives and staying at lodges in the various National Parks. The beauty is just inexpressable!

Unlike a zoo, the fun and challenge was spotting the animals in the wild and observing their behavior. We saw herds of elephants, giraffes, zebras, impala, and tonks. On one occasion, we saw a pride of nine lions. We also saw other lions resting, mating, and eating their prey. We saw with the monkeys, crocodiles, and THE BUGS!

I am looking forward to taking you on safari with me, showing you some of the artifacts I returned home with, and answering any and all of your questions about my trip. It will be an exciting evening program.

SPRING FEVER

As the time draws near for another camp season, I find myself extremely busy with both school and work. The warm weather of summer is going to be greatly welcomed and appreciated after this long, cold winter here in Minnesota.

I know that I am very anxious to see all of our former campers again and I am looking forward to meeting all of you who will be new to Camp Foley.

This year should be even better than last (if that can be possible). Marie tells me that she has planned a special day for each period and with your help each one should be a very successful and very enjoyable one.

Concentrating on my school work is very difficult just now because I know of all the special plans for this summer and all the fun I'll have at camp. Our sailing staff is bigger and better than ever, and our soccer team will be just terrific with the coaching of Tom Schmid and the expert management of Billy Faricy. If all of the other activities were mentioned, I'm sure I would leave my books behind and be up at camp in 20 minutes.

To say that I am looking forward to this summer would be an understatement. And if I don't stop writing I won't be able to study my Spanish.

See you this summer! And bring a friend along.

Billy Faricy

A GIFT THAT LASTS A LIFETIME

I used to think Christmas was for children. Birthdays, too, for that matter. But such things are really for parents. Especially parents who have children old enough to appreciate, but not yet old enough to have outgrown the magic and excitement that accompanies these special occasions. My children's expressions of suprise, wonderment, and happiness at receiving a present or gift is a constant source of delight to me, as I'm sure it is to every parent.

I have often wondered if there was one special gift that I could give my children that would capture that magic and excitement for them, but would stay with them long beyond their childhood years.

Clothing, though, is soon outgrown and toys fall apart, but a gift that would lead a child to a love of the outdoors and would instill within him an appreciation of nature is a gift that would be good for an entire lifetime; a treasure no one could ever take away. When tensions have him tied in knots, a rippling stream will relax him. When he is beset by problems, they will be eased away among the whispering trees. When the busy work-a-day world and the crowds of the city press upon him, a walk in a spring meadow will refresh him. When disappointment confronts him, the warm light of an autumn sunset will brighten his spirits.

Of course, you can't just tell a child to enjoy clear skies and fresh air. You might as well tell him to learn to appreciate good music and let it go at that. He must be exposed and tempted and have his interest aroused. One way to do that is to choose a gift that will subtly lead young minds in the direction you want them to go.

Perhaps your thoughts are similar to mine and that is why you have sent or are considering sending your child to camp; to allow them to develop a love of the outdoors and an appreciation of the beauties and wonders of nature--to give a gift that will last a lifetime.

Foley BUGLE

A Publication of CAMP FOLEY, Pine River, Minn.
Vol. 54, No. 4 Mrs. Robert E. Schmid, Director Oct. - Nov.

DEAR FOLEY CAMPERS:

Indian Summer has been welcomed in Minnesota... with colored leaves, sunny days, crisp evenings, and the beautiful Aurora Borealis (the "northern lights") to fill the night sky.

As this Bugle indicates, it was a successful summer of camping at Camp Foley. I am ready to come to your town, city, or state and visit with you about 1978 and plans for 1979. Reunion dates are already on the calendar.

So get your friends together! Write or call me: (Area code 612, 645-4298) and let's plan your date for an evening or a Sunday afternoon Camp Foley Get-Together. I will be there!

TOM SAWYER DAY

Our campers were treated to a very special day this past summer -- TOM SAWYER DAY. The campers were divided into several teams and they competed against each other throughout the day.

As TOM SAWYER DAY began, one counselor was chosen by the campers to be "Tom Sawyer". It was Tom's job to hand out points to the teams as they won events or did special favors for Tom. That kept the campers on their toes all day!

"Aunt Polly" started the day with an inspection to make sure the campers were keeping themselves clean.

Each team then presented Tom with their team cheer: and the teams also made up creative skits, songs, and a team name -- all of which were judged by Tom.

The day was filled with many events, both on land and in the water. Included were such activities as the water balloon toss, three-legged race, pillow knock-off, a tug of war, greased watermelon and so on.

Campers did not get by without attending the "fire and brimstone" sermon.

The day ended with team songs and skits which then determined the day's winning team. But little did Tom know... that everyone would gang up on him after it was all over, to toss him in the

HORSEBACK RIDING

The Country Trails Riding Stables were kept very busy by Foley campers, during the summer of '78. I was in charge of the horseback riding program; and the camp was given special rates at this nearby stable.

Campers had their choice of 40 horses, varying in size from a pony to a large horse. Each morning and evening, I took a group riding for 1½ hours. When the weather was nice, we played Pom Pom Pull-Away on horseback.

During the summer, we had one all-day ride and three overnights. We rode up to Stuart Lake -- a total of seven hours of riding (four up, three back) on each trip. I'm proud to say that all of my riders did very well on these long trips which required a lot of endurance.

I chose Stuart Lake because it is very secluded. There are only five cabins on the lake, and there are just three ways to get there, one of which is by horse. We saw plenty of wild blueberries and raspberries along the trail. The water was so clear that we filled our canteens.

All in all, I was very pleased with all my riders. They did a fine job and I was glad that I changed some minds about horses -- for the better! I hope all the Foley riders will continue to enjoy riding as much as I do.

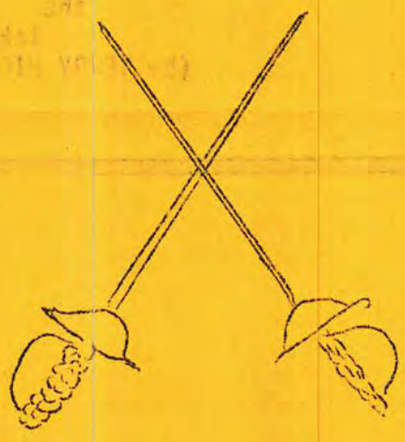
CAMILLA STONE

FENCING

As a first-year instructor, I entered the first session at camp with a few doubts, which were quickly eliminated by the way the campers all caught on.

We had many excellent fencers, including quite a few girls. The quickest learner of the whole summer was Ricky Johnson. He started as a beginner, but by the end of the first session he had passed his Advanced Foil. He was one of only two people to pass this test, the other being Casey Schoen. I hope everyone enjoyed the fencing class and came to realize what a great sport it is!

KEVIN MAHONEY



SHOP

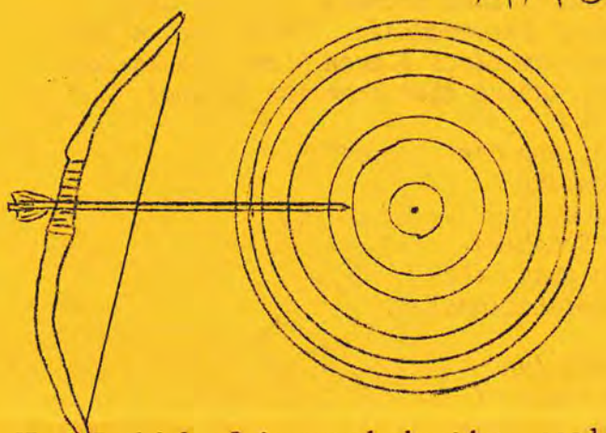
It was another great year for the shop. During the first and second sessions we were able to hold a Whitefish Wind Walker Junior Regatta. The third session regatta was called for lack of time.

Of course Ojibsail - excuse me - Ojibway swept the first session regatta. With all the hot air of Drew Green, Mike Fettkether, and Jeff Brown, how could we lose? The icing on the cake came when Jeff Brown won the award for the best looking boat in camp.

Second session, Casimiro Rojas took first place while Drew Green and Chris Fox tied for second. All in all, the shop had another exciting year of building and racing!

MARK REVORD

ARCHERY



During the past camping season, I was the director of the archery program. This was my first year here at Camp Foley, and I had fun learning along with the campers.

It was a good season. I was impressed with the budding talents of my archers. During the second session, an archery team consisting of six campers went to Camp Birchwood. Out of the three teams that participated, Camp Foley came in a strong second and brought home a handsome trophy. It was a proud day for us all!! When I think of improved shooting, good sportsmanship, and pure determination, there are several campers who come to mind. The highest award given this summer was earned by Mike Lindsay, who attained the rank of Silver Archer. Mike worked very hard and well deserves the award.

As my most improved and determined archers, a couple of campers must be mentioned. Ted Johnson was constantly at the range trying for his awards. He climbed the ladder to Archer, and was a member of the team that went to Birchwood. His wit and humor really raised the spirits on a hot day. Dave Campbell was also improving; he also made his Archer and was on the team going to Birchwood.

And who can forget Manuel Rojas -- the first winner of the Busted Bowstring Award? He managed one day to lose or break eight arrows all in the space of ten minutes, guaranteeing his place in history. He was also awarded his Archer, however, which proves his luck was not always bad!

Among the girls, Kate Dolan comes to mind. She was awarded her Bowman Sharpshooter, and made me wish that I could get together a girls' team for a challenge match. (Maybe next year?) Kate also impressed me with her arrow making ability.

There are many other campers who deserve mention, but I'll just say that they were a great group. I saw much talent and much enthusiasm for the sport. There were many archery awards given out this summer, and I hope to see all of the campers back next year to earn more awards and to anjoy themselves.

B.W.C.A. TRIP

"RUN-IN AT THE BORDER"

This year's Canadian-Boundary Waters Canoe Trip resulted in being just a Boundary Waters Canoe Trip. The group that went did not have a permit for the guide. We only learned at the border that a Canadian law, put into effect in April, required each guide coming from the U.S. into Canada to have a work permit. (Mrs. Schmid and the outfitters had not been informed of this in advance.) So our trip had to be rerouted entirely on the United States side of the border. Nevertheless it was a success.

Probably the best part of the trip was the beautiful scenery. The high rocky palisades of Esther and Hanson Lakes were not only scenic, but they made good spots for cliff-jumping. The falls off Hanson Lake provided natural showering facilities, also. One of the campsites on Gabimichigami Lake came complete with our very own diving ledge over the lake. And we had the opportunity to set up camp for the last two days on a beautiful rock of an island, in the middle of Tuscanini Lake.

Tim Moffet proved himself to be very capable in the cooking department. He went from the kitchen at camp to the U.S. Forest Service grills in the BWCA, doing an excellent job. He also deserves the "Best Whittler" award. Mark Noel, Mike Cortesio, and Tom Gallagher should turn into "Alka Seltzers" for the number of times they jumped off the cliffs.

By the end of the trip, Tim and Mark were able to carry the canoes over a one-mile portage. Tom and Mike also did an excellent job carrying some very heavy packs. Following the trip, a hot sauna and shower and a gourmet dinner in Duluth made for a most enjoyable conclusion.

JOE LAUER

SWIMMING

Camp Foley has set a goal: We want everyone to take swimming lessons until they pass the level of the American Red Cross Intermediate. Therefore, almost all of you heard of "Joe's Whipkick" -- and sometimes I even heard the sailors say that I competed for campers and staff, taking them from the marina!

If you reached the goal of an Intermediate, you can now do the front crawl, side stroke, elementary back stroke, and breast stroke. In addition, you have the endurance to be a good swimmer. Speaking of endurance, many of you proved this with your mile-and-a-quarter Across the Lake Swim. Congratulations!

You campers found that swimming lessons were fun on hot, calm days. But you also had your share of cold, wavy days. I'm really pleased at the quality of swimming you attained here at Foley. I hope you get a chance to go swimming during the year because, as with any skill, you need to keep practicing so you don't get "rusty". Then next summer you can dive into the refreshing water of Whitefish, just where you left off in 1978.

TENNIS

by DEBRA WEBER

This past summer was highly successful on the tennis courts for Foley campers. Many campers participated and learned the basic strokes.

The Winner's Mark National Junior Tennis Program, a specialized tennis program lasting two hours a day for six days, resulted in a lot of improvement and many awards. Thirty-eight hard-working athletes completed some phase of the Winner's Mark and did a great job.

Second session, the top four boys and top four girl tennis players competed in a four-way tennis match at Camp Birchwood. The girls' team gained invaluable experience and played well. Cathy Cremer, Marnie Conlin, and Chris Kalin all had good matches. Kim Drahota also did a good job, tying for third place.

The boys' team, composed of Gabriel Todd, Daniel Diaz, Alfredo Beneitez, and Pat Walsh, did an exceptional job. The four easily won the overall championship with Gabriel taking first place, Daniel and Alfredo tying for third, and Pat losing a close match to the eventual second place winner.

At the end of the second session, ten girls traveled to Camp Lake Hubert to compete in both singles and doubles. Winning in singles were Cathy Cremer, Kim Drahota, and Julie McMullin. Cathy and Kim later teamed up to win at first doubles.

Camp Foley held singles tennis tournaments during all three sessions. The results were as follows:

SUMMER MEMORIES

As the summer drew to an end, I looked back at all the great things we had done at Camp Foley and there was one activity that stuck out in my mind above the rest. And that was sailing.

By teaching sailing and by participating in the many races at camp, I became more involved in sailing this summer than any summer before. I learned much from the sailing staff, for they all are good sailors. The more we talked about sailing, the more eager I was to learn.

One of the good things about camp is the great variety of sailboats to gain experience from. Many of the campers had the opportunity to sail on all the boats. This summer the E boat, with its spinnaker and reacher, added even more variety to the sailing programs.

Teaching sailing was very rewarding because so many campers were eager to learn. Many received awards and there were even a few who were able to receive two in the same season: Mike Murphy, John Buenneke, and Pat White all received their Seaman and Mate awards.

I hope that all the sailors, both staff and campers, will return so that we can learn even more next year. Have a good year, and I will see you down at the Marina next summer!

NICK HAMEL

RIFLERY

Interest in riflery was high at Camp Foley last summer. Many campers participated, and many thousands of rounds were fired. In addition to the .22 caliber target rifles, .410 gauge shotguns were used for skeet shooting.

The first session had the special treat of watching the land staff vs. sailing staff in a skeet shooting competition. The sailors were represented by Nick Hamel, Peter Kronschnabel, Tom Schmid, and Bob Clemens. Mark Revord, Doug Engh, Joe Lauer, and Tim Hogan made up the land staff. Bill Faricy judged, while Kevin Mahoney threw the birds. Competition was fierce but the contest ended in a tie.

Five rifle teams were formed during the session for match competition. The first team of the summer consisted of Pat Walsh, Mike Lindsay, Mike Murphy, Emmett McKerr, Tim Moffet, Pat White, and John Buenneke. They lost a close match to Camp Mishawaka.

For the Camp Birchwood regatta day, both a girls' and a boys' junior team were formed. Holly Jacobson, Butch Conlin, Libby Conlin, Martha Vallez, Kate Dolan, and Lori Lindsay represented Foley's girls. The boys' team, which took 2nd, consisted of Allen Jacobson, Fernando Gual-Sill, Larry Hulseman, Brian Walsh, Tom Vallez, and Mike Scott. These two teams were a great compliment to Camp Foley before the other camps because of their courtesy and sportsmanship.

The annual four-way match between Camps Mishawaka, Lincoln, Thunderbird, and Foley was held at Camp Foley this year. The senior team included Tim Moffet, Gabriel Todd, Mike Lindsay, Pat Walsh, and Mike Murphy. The junior team was Mauricio Todd, Jim Dalsin, Fernando Gual-Sill, Karl Schaphorst, and Ted Kronschnabel. Mishawaka edged Thunderbird to win the match.

A four-way match for the girls was initiated by Horace Little, rifle director for Camp Mishawaka. Camp Foley intends to continue this match by hosting it next year. Martha Lopez-Tolsa, Vicky Fuentes, Betsy Marzolf, Kate Marzolf, and Julie Drey represented Foley. Mishawaka again edged Thunderbird to win the match.

Many awards were earned this summer, and many shooters sharpened their skills. Kate Dolan and Roberto Latapi were among the most improved shooters of the summer. Overall, the campers really enjoyed the rifle range.

REGATTA SEASON '78

Camp Foley in '78 had its most successful regatta season in its fifty-four year history. Camp Foley campers, in five Whitefish Chain Yacht Club Regattas, managed to place seventeen times, taking either first, second, or third. Foley's previous high was in 1975 when campers placed seven times! This year Foley sailors took seven firsts, six seconds, and four thirds.

One particular camper, Tim Crowe, captured the Commodore's Cup for the X-Boat Class. Tim started out a little slow by placing third in the first race. He came on very strong by getting three straight firsts. Tim had enough points that he did not even have to sail in the last race!

The Commodore's Cup is given to the individual who has the most points overall throughout the five Whitefish Chain Yacht Club (W.C.Y.C.) Regattas. One cup is given for each class. The W.C.Y.C. races a C-scow Class, Large Mixed Class, Small Mixed Class, X-Boat Class, Catamaran Class, and a Sunfish Class.

In addition, the Foley Sailing Staff also had the opportunity to try their skill in the W.C.Y.C. Regattas. Kevin Mahoney, racing Foley's new E-Scow (28 feet) in the second regatta, brought home a first place in the Large Mixed Class. Peter Kronschnabel, sailing the E-Scow in the fifth race, also took first place. Campers Tim Moffet and Mike Lindsay sailed the E-boat in the third and fourth races, and placed second and first respectively.

Our sailing instructors Nick Hamel and Louise Austin, racing their own C-boats, placed high in the overall standings in the highly competitive C-boat class. Bob Clemens, racing his own M-16, took the Commodore's Cup in the Large Mixed Class by placing first, second, first, second, and third in that order. Coming in second place overall in the Large Mixed Class was Foley's E-boat.

Foley's sailing director Tom Schmid along with his brother Bob Schmid won the Commodore's Cup in the C-Scow Class by placing second, third, first, first, and first respectively.

Altogether, people from Camp Foley won three Commodore's Cups out of six possible classifications, or three cups out of four classes that Foley raced in.

To gear up for the Whitefish races, Foley had twenty-one races of their own. In first session, Tim Moffet was the highest ranked skipper. In second session, Sheila Galligan captured the highest rank honors in Foley's Small Mixed Class. During third session, Tim Crowe and Martha Lopez-Tolsa tied for the highest rankings.

Thanks to a highly qualified sailing staff, a sincere effort from Foley campers, and the acquisition of the E-scow with the added dimensions of spinnaker sailing, Foley's sailing program exceeded all previous levels and gave us a very successful season.

CANOEING

A THREE DAY CANOE TRIP

In the second session, some of the girls went on a three day canoe trip. We left after breakfast the first day and canoed for about four hours. Then we stopped for lunch on a little island. It was an exotic lunch of bologna and cheese sandwiches. We paddled for about four or five hours until we got to a very small island in the middle of the lake. As we set up the campsite, we were eaten alive by mosquitoes, but that did not stop us from having a good time. We went swimming, and a few of the girls took the "Titanic" and went canoe swamping. It took us a while to get the canoe back out of the water! We had sloppy Joes for dinner.

The next day we left after breakfast and paddled for about four hours. We finally got to Tepee Island and found a big surprise; everything was set to go and very clean! The campfire was ready to go, and it was really nice because all of the trees were spaced just perfect for our tents. The mosquitoes were not half as bad as the night before. We had hot dogs and rice crispies treats for dinner.

For breakfast on the third day, we had cinnamon rolls. We left Tepee after we took down our tents, and all of us canoed to Hidden Lake, a swampy lake. It was really fun paddling through it. In the middle of the lake is a small tunnel that we canoed through. As we went through, we had to push along the walls. A few yards after that, we had lunch in our canoes. It consisted of delicious peanut butter and jelly sandwiches. After we got out of that, we were led back to Whitefish Lake. We just had to paddle around the point; then we were back at camp. It was a very exciting trip!

REFLECTIONS OVER THE WATER

I can remember one warm sunny day in the '78 sailing season that seems to stand out in my mind. Besides being a warm day, the wind was really up. When I say the wind was up, I mean it was bookin'.

Before this day, I had sailed the Yankee Girl quite a few times, but never in a wind this mean.

The wind was just blowing wildly as the campers gathered at the marina for first period sailing. Kronsch looked at me and said, "Why don't you and I take out the E boat?" I simply replied, "It sounds good to me."

Kronsch and I then set sail and proceeded with our campers to the south shore of Whitefish. We knew we were moving fast when we had seven people on the high side, one of them being Kronsch!

I have never seen such excitement and pleasure derived from one period of sailing. Everyone was hooting and hollering, as we zipped across the lake, including the conservative Mr. Kronschnabel.

Not only was the pleasure of sailing present in first period that day. Why, just one period later some very crazy things, like Tim Moffet falling into the water, began to happen. (Thanks given to one alias T.G.)

That day kept up its pace when Maureen Conlin slid off the bow of the Johnson X during a landing!

I think the day turned out to be one of the most memorable ones I ever spent down at the marina.

BOB CLEMENS

SAILING...

As I look back over the '78 camping season, I think it was great fun.

The first things that come to my mind are the regattas. Sailing the mighty Checkmate with great crew members like Gabriel Todd, Manuel (Floppy) Rojas, and Pat Walsh was quite an experience. Even though the Checkmate did not place, we put a scare into the other boats' crews!

There are three times I will never forget:

(1) Sailing the Checkmate with Paul Duffy, Larry Reichert, Alonso Gomez, and Sergio Hernandez;

(2) When Casimiro Rojas and Mark (Pup) Pohrer fell off the Checkmate while trying to buoy; and

(3) The last Whitefish Regatta when the Yankee Girl IV came in first place with the terrific crew of Mike Reverd, Todd Cook, Sergio Hernandez, and Chris Bartels.

All in all it was a great summer, wasn't it? I hope everyone learned something down at the Marina. And I hope to see you all back next summer!

PETER KRONSCHNABEL

THE ART STUDIO

This summer marked the beginning of a new program at Camp Foley. An old garage was renovated and decorated with bright colors, thus to become known as Louise's Art Studio.

Many, many girls enjoyed long hours of work learning, experimenting, and creating many elements of art with various media - paint, crayon, wood, beads, oil based crayons, and string. Have you ever squished your toes in red or green paint? Or sketched a sailboat - moving or still?

After hours and weeks of work, the girls held an open house. On display were many creative pieces depicting many moods, expressed in many different ways. There were wooden plaques with painted or beaded messages ... some sailboats (handmade from wood) were on the shelves ... plants and greenery added a very decorative touch.

After the Visitors' Mass on Sunday, people came to view the girls' work and to enjoy a homemade cookie and a cup of tea. The girls were proud hostesses - not to mention instructor Louise! That evening the Foley campers were invited to the art studio; they were amazed at the beautiful work. Thanks to Louise, the Art Studio was an exciting new attraction at Foley this summer.

WATER SKIING

The water skiing program was remarkable this year. We pulled many skiers, all of whom really improved their skills.

We saw skiers get up on two skis for the first time, like Paul Butler and Andrea Hoffmeier. We pulled some Foley campers who advanced to dropping skis, like Mary Durbin and Pedro Martinez -- their smiles were fantastic!

Showing the greatest improvement were Pat White and R.P. Murphy (alias Mike Murphy), going from two skis to "spraying" on the O'Brien. Tom Gallagher also showed his expertise, barefooting behind the 85.

We can mention only a few names of the many, many campers who water skied this past summer. We hope that everyone can return next year, for more fun and skill on the water.
