Campers Thinking Foley For '86
How About You?

SESSIONS BEGINNING TO FILL

REGISTER TODAY!

Parents and campers are really thinking about Foley! Within a seven day period over FIFTY applications were received into our camp office from all over the United States and Mexico. It is creating a lot of excitement and enthusiasm for everyone. Can summer be approaching so rapidly? I can hardly wait until the first bus rolls into camp on June 18th bursting with noise from First Sesson campers. Session Two is continuing in popularity with new and past campers selecting the ideal July weather. The three weeks enable campers a chance for diversity and accomplishment in many camp activities. Third Session enrollment is arriving into our office in record volume with girls selecting this session more than than ever before in the history of camp. Campers Share Their Memories Of Camp

At our slide presentations this winter throughout the Midwest, we have been asking past campers to say a few words about their experiences at Foley. We thank all who have shared these special feelings with us. The majority of the campers commented on the importance of making new friends and the opportunity to be accepted by all of the campers and staff at Foley. Some simply said camp was FUN. Other comments included favorite activities or events, staff, and the opportunity to be away from home. I am always interested in hearing from our campers. Below is an excerpt of a short story written by Mark Osborn for his school's writing class. I believe that Foley leaves an impression on the minds of many campers and I thank Mark for sharing the following piece with us.

It was a chilly January morning, about a week after Christmas...we talked of our experiences last summer as workcrew at Camp Foley and expressed our anticipation for next summer... We donned our cross-country skis and cannonballed down the bank onto the frozen expanse of water. By now the sun had risen above the hilltops giving the snow a light-pink hue. We kicked and glided our way down the familiar shoreline toward the camp. When we reached where the docks had been, we removed our skis and placed them up against the marina wall. The place looked different wrapped in a blanket of snow. The stone chapel, built 50 years ago, looked ominous in the morning light as an eerie silence settled around us. The camp was different now. It was empty. Camp Foley had always been a full place. Full of people, full of laughter, full of warmth. A place to go to have fun and not worry about fitting in; you just did. We walked around the camp visiting all our favorite places. We came to the cabin we had spent the summer in, pried open one of the windows and crawled through. A light dust had settled on the floor and cabinets. The black metal bunks stood in neat rows of three. Right then, they seemed the most comfortable place in the world. The counselor's lounge was empty. A few things had been left: the eight of spades nailed to the wall and the Byerly's bag hung up for decoration, signifying Joe "Spicolli" Putnam had been there. A great sense of depression and loss came over us. We missed the people we had become friends with, and we knew we would never see most of them again. We left the cabin in silence, leaving a note on the frosted window so they knew that we had been there and not someone breaking in. As we walked down the tree-lined road toward the dining hall I could almost smell the wholesome odor of whole wheat pancakes on the griddle. The sun was at its peak now and we started back to Dan's cabin. We were silent the rest of the way back, not wanting to disturb the peace of this beautiful spot. Everything had changed. I was not worried though. I knew that next summer everything would be back to normal again.

BOYS Sail Lake Superior

only one place open

Foley sailors can take advantage of a special trip Session I of the 1986 season. Five campers and one staff member will spend four days aboard La Plongeon, a 42 ft. ocean-going sailboat, exploring the Apostle Islands and learning the skills of large boat sailing. Campers will leave camp June 30 and return the evening of July 4. Cost is $225.00, which covers the boat charter, food, and transportation. This cost excludes regular Session I tuition and personal expenses of the camper throughout the trip. Campers will be responsible for the purchase of two meals while enroute from and to camp, and any snacks, etc. purchased during the trip. Any camper 13 years of age or older who has some sailing experience is eligible for the sail trip. Preparations for the trip will be made in the first part of Session I and all participating campers will have ample opportunity to work on their sailing skills prior to the Lake Superior trip. ONLY ONE SPACE AVAILABLE. If you are interested in participating on the Lake Superior sail trip, send in your registration and deposit as soon as possible. Don't miss the chance to sail with other Foley campers on Lake Superior and to explore both the waters and lands of the Great North!

Program Preview

Programming for '86 is shaping up and taking on some new dimensions. In addition to our traditionally strong waterfront and land activities, our staff for '86 are bringing in some ideas to help add that special spark to the activities that make coming to camp FUN and DIFFERENT each year. Here is a small sampling of what is in store for this summer:

Kristen Raub is joining the Foley staff with a keen interest in athletics, particularly track and field events. Kristen will set up tournaments in track, volleyball, basketball, and tennis for both campers and staff. Competition may be between individuals, cabins, or campers against staff. We are excited to see the spirit of competition and sportsmanship as our campers have the opportunity to participate in an athletic program at Foley.

Echo Lake has always been a popular destination for our campers Acres of woods, meadow, and marsh are explored and enjoyed for its beauty and tranquility. Peter Casper will be in charge of the nature program this summer. Peter has a background in biology and comes to us with years of experience in working with children. Under his guidance, our campers will learn more about nature and their environment through exploration, games, and experiments. Our campers are guaranteed to have a fun learning experience as they explore Echo Lake with Peter.

Shop is now open to girls! Traditionally, the shop program was open to boys only. As time progressed, the opportunity for the girls to create through woodworking was offered intermittently in the arts and crafts program. This summer, the full shop program will be offered to the girls. They will now have the opportunity to build clocks, sailboats, birdhouses, birdfeeders, and to be creative with their own designs in wood. Girls, WELCOME TO SHOP!

Amy Pardieck will be working with the riding program this summer. She has extensive experience with western riding and training as well as showing horses. She has four years experience in instructing children in basic riding techniques and techniques for show. Amy brings with her a wealth of knowledge, experience, and enthusiasm to the Foley staff.

SWIM TESTING

Campers will be classified into swimming levels by one of the following measures:

1. Red Cross classification of previous year of camp.
2. Presentation of Red Cross Card or signed note from parent of passed swimming level.
3. Camp Foley testing of strokes and skills.

BRING RED CROSS CARDS.

In addition to the above classification, all campers, upon arrival at camp, will do 10 minutes of backfloat, survival float, and treading of water. This lets us know the condition the camper is in and how acclimated he/she is to lake water. It also gives us the security of knowing if a camper is able to handle himself/herself in the water if capsized until help arrives. Keep in mind that swimming in a lake is different than a pool.

Those campers holding the Red Cross Intermediate Card will do 25 yards of each of the following strokes: front crawl, back crawl, elementary backstroke, breaststroke, and sidestroke. If an Intermediate swimmer is "rusty," he/she will be required to take a swimming review class to improve strokes and endurance for three days. Only if a camper's skills are extremely poor will the Intermediate classification be upheld. Red Cross Intermediate cards are not issued because a camper already has this classification.

Physical forms and health history forms are mailed upon receipt of registration. Physicals must be properly filled out by a licensed physician within 24 months of camp attendance. Anyone coming to camp without a medical form properly filled out will be charged accordingly for an examination by a local physician. (A Xerox copy of the camper's current school medical examination will be acceptable.) All health history forms must be completed yearly within 6 months of camp attendance. The forms have been color coded to aid you in identification: white for the physical form, pink for the health history.

SPECIAL DAYS UPDATE

Now is the time to start planning for the special days while you are in camp. Each session has its own special day and there is plenty of room for personal creativity on each day. Start preparing today to make your Special Day the best yet!

SESSION I: BACKWARDS DAY. What makes Backwards Day special? How often do you eat supper at 8:00 a.m., wear your clothes backwards, walk backwards, maybe even talk backwards? You need to bring a presentable pair of pajamas to wear to our pajama breakfast at 6:00 p.m. on Backwards Day.

SESSION II: NEW WAVE DAY. The day you've been waiting for at camp. This is your opportunity to let your creativity go. Dress in your best New Wave style and get ready for a style contest unparalleled anywhere in the world. After you "strut your stuff" on the Foley runway, you'll attend a dance in the best of New Wave tradition.

SESSION III: HAWAIIAN LUAU. Picture this: balmy breezes off the lake, and warm sunlight on Foley Green, the perfect setting for a luau in Minnesota! Bring your brightest Hawaiian clothing to participate in Foley's Hawaiian Luau. Limber up for the bamboo dance and limbo competitions. Enjoy a barbecue with your cabinmates as we all "go Hawaiian!"

LAKE SUPERIOR SAIL TRIP

The following group of boys will depart from Foley on June 30th for a 4-day Apostle Island Sail Trip under the leadership of Peter Kronschnabel: Jamie Kugler, Todd Benton. Joshua Newsome, John O'Keefe, and Martin Perez. Chris Battis is the alternate sailor. These sailors will be off to adventure and fun!

WELCOMING OUR NEW ASSISTANTS

The Assistant Counselor program is in full swing this summer. Five of our past campers and work crew members are returning to camp this summer as assistant counselors. Throughout the summer, they will assist in activity instruction and help out with the younger campers. As an assistant, they will be required to participate in meetings that will aid in leadership skill development and will provide them with practical tips and ideas in dealing with children and activities at camp. We enthusiastically welcome Mark Osborn, Mike Norman, Martin Perez, Dan O'Connor, and Mary Burnett to our Assistant Counselor program and look forward to working with them throughout the summer.

NEW LOOK FOR BROCHURE!

Word is out. The NEW Brochure has begun to turn up in many of our cities as we have continued our promotion tour. Campers and parents alike have commented on the new format for the brochure. We are all pleased with the outcome and would like to thank Shelley Smith Hickey for her work in the design and layout of the brochure. Shelley has been a staff member at Foley for a number of years working at the waterfront. We are pleased that Shelley has offered her creative talents this winter to work with the brochure and to provide new designs for our special Foley products. Thanks, Shelley!
